Question:	List the most valuable learning experiences you have gained from this course.
Response Rate:	33.33% (1 of 3)

1	To be very prepare and to read everything that is given to you. A better understanding of my Catholic faith and what it is to be a good virtous and moral Christian.

Question:	What would you change about this course to make it more effective?
Response Rate:	66.67% (2 of 3)

1	The readings and writing of executive summaries are too many. They are informative but yet take up too much time especially if you have a full load of courses and work full time. The study guide given of over 80 reviews questions as just as time consuming.
2	The workload is a little too much for something that does not even go in my major. Sure, it's great material to learn but I wish the professor would take into consideration that some of us may be taking up to 6 classes and that realistically is becomes very difficult to give 100% in all of your classes when one requires SO much time.

Question:	Other general comments:
Response Rate:	66.67% (2 of 3)

1	The course is very difficult however Professor Smith's lectures due help.
2	Also, I am very confused as to why this course is called "Christ and the Moral Life," because not once did we study anything directly from the Bible or an actual text from Jesus Christ himself. It was just readings from Pope's speeches and teachings of the Church. If that what the course is intended to be then go ahead and keep everything that way, but please change the title to "The Church and the Moral Life" so people are not misled.

Question:	List the most valuable learning experiences you have gained from this instructor.
Response Rate:	33.33% (1 of 3)

1	A deep understanding of what it is to be a Catholic Christian in this modern world. To be upfront about many topics that some may consider taboo. Professor Smith, although difficult in his assignments and very difficult to locate, is a man who understands what he teaches and very willing to work with you on any difficulties.
